An Exciting Future!

A truly unique organization since 1956, RAVA is one of the first associations of its kind anywhere in the U.S.

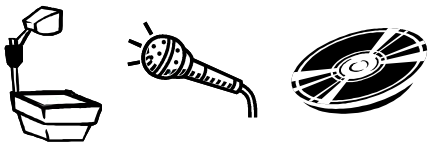

With a mix of members who use or supply all types of visual and audio communications tools, RAVA maintains a rare and evolving sense of perspective.

Accomplishments, which at times exceed those of larger, national groups, testify to the quality of people involved. RAVA has sponsored topical symposiums, which have drawn national speakers and attention, has served as regional host for national conventions, and regularly draws renowned guests for major banquets and meetings.

Because RAVA is unaffiliated with any national group, dues remain nominal and yet allow for regular regional interchange. Members serve as individuals and do not officially represent their respective companies or institutions.

All meetings are open to nonmembers. Come meet us at our next gathering, like our monthly First Tuesday luncheon.
